Robert Moore, MD, MPH- Chief Medical Officer, Partnership HealthPlan of California

Robert Moore is the Chief Medical Officer of Partnership HealthPlan (PHC), a well-respected Medi-Cal Managed Care plan, serving 14 Northern California counties. Prior to joining PHC, Dr. Moore was the Medical Director of Community Health Clinic Ole, an FQHC in Napa County, for 13 years, where he continues to see patients one evening each week. His major professional interests are quality improvement, operational effectiveness, and delivery system transformation. He is a graduate of UCSF Medical School and the Columbia University School of Public Health. Dr. Moore completed post-graduate courses and fellowships in health center management, health care leadership, and quality improvement. His clinical interests include palliative care, intensive outpatient care management, hospital medicine, diabetes care, and pediatrics.

Ella D. Auchincloss, MTS- Senior Project Lead, Engagement & Stewardship, ReThink Health

Ella heads community engagement efforts for ReThink Health. An expert in community leadership development, Ella leads multi-site projects, trainings, and workshops and provides coaching for a wide variety of organizations and teams, helping them develop the skills needed to lead change. She holds a MTS from the Harvard Divinity School and a BS in Finance from Babson College.
Karen Smith, MD, MPH- Director and State Health Officer, California Department of Public Health

On March 23, 2015, Karen Smith, MD, MPH, was sworn in as director of the California Department of Public Health and state health officer. Smith is a physician specializing in infectious disease and public health. Prior to her appointment, Smith served as public health officer and deputy director at the Napa County Health and Human Services Agency since 2004. She was also been on medical staff for infectious disease at Queen of the Valley Medical Center in Napa from 2012 to 2014 and has been a faculty consultant for the Francis J. Curry International Tuberculosis Center at the University of California, San Francisco since 1997.

She served as clinical faculty at the Santa Clara County Valley Medical Center Division of Infectious Diseases from 1997 to 2004. Smith served as assistant section chief at the California Department of Health Services Tuberculosis Control Branch from 2000 to 2001 and held several positions at the Stanford University School of Medicine from 1992 to 2004, including resident, fellow and course director. Smith also served as TB Controller for Santa Clara County and served as president of the California TB.

Smith completed her medical training and infectious diseases fellowship at Stanford University after having obtained a Master of Public Health degree at Johns Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public health. Prior to her medical training, Smith served in the Peace Corp as Public Health Laboratory Director for the Marrakesh Province in Morocco and at the Wichienburi Regional Hospital in Thailand.

Jennifer Henn, PhD- Public Health Manager and Epidemiologist, Public Health Division, Napa County Health and Human Services Agency

Dr. Jennifer Henn received her PhD in epidemiology from the University of California, Davis in 2006. She spent a year as a California Epidemiologic Investigations Service Fellow at the California Department of Public Health before joining Napa County as an epidemiologist in 2007. Dr. Henn has had a lead role in the Live Healthy Napa County (LHNC) Collaborative, which was formed in 2012 with the goal of improving community health by addressing public health problems and developing health promotion strategies. She was a primary author of the LHNC Community Health Assessment and has been actively involved in developing data and evaluation strategies for the collaborative over the past three years. She is currently the interim Public Health Manager for LHNC.
Jason Cunningham, DO, Agency Medical Director, West County Health Centers

Jason Cunningham is the Medical Director of West County Health Centers, a Federally Qualified Health Center caring for patients in western Sonoma County. West County Health Centers has become a thought leader and innovator in re-designing Primary Care around the principle that a “trusting, long-term relationship” is the most important product of health care and the most influential in improving health. Dr. Cunningham’s leadership has focused on the use of video and communication technology to improve care coordination, team-based care for patients with complex medical and social stressors, and the use of data to drive innovation.

Dr. Cunningham is interested in leadership within healthcare delivery and participates in multiple boards and committees with local, regional and state organizations.

Dr. Cunningham is a Family Physician and remains dedicated to patient care. He received his Bachelor of Science from the University of Michigan and medical degree from Kirksville College of Osteopathic Medicine.

Danielle Oryn, DO, Chief Medical Information Officer

Since medical school at Nova Southeastern University, Dr. Danielle Oryn has been passionate about leveraging technology to improve health care for the underserved. After completing residency in Family Medicine, she went on to complete a Masters in Public Health and a graduate certificate in Biomedical Informatics. As Chief Medical Informatics Officer at Petaluma Health Center and Redwood Community Health Coalition, Dr. Oryn provides leadership for initiatives in clinical systems, health information technology and quality improvement.
Breanne Olmstead, MA, Member Services Director, Open Door Community Health Centers

As Member Services Director for Open Door Community Health Centers, Brea’s work is focused toward program development, implementation, and sustainability in areas of social determinants of health to support Open Door patients, care teams, and community. She is especially passionate about projects linked to patient navigation, process improvement, access to care and programs to support health and wellness, food security, housing, and human dignity. Brea works across Open Door’s 12 primary care, specialty, and dental sites in Humboldt and Del Norte Counties to integrate enabling/social support programs into the primary care delivery system. She also serves as point of contact for various County Government projects and collaborative community initiatives. Brea joined the Open Door team in 2010 and is a graduate of Humboldt State University’s Master of Arts, Social Science interdisciplinary program in Environment & Community, with certificates in Women’s Studies and Pre-Doctoral College Teaching.

Terri Fields Hosler, MPH, RD- Public Health Director, Shasta County Health and Human Services Agency

Terri has been with Shasta County since 2001, and is currently serving as the Public Health Director for the Health and Human Services Agency. She is a Registered Dietitian with 25 years of public health experience. In 2005 she created the vision for a county-wide collaborative to address childhood obesity called Healthy Shasta. Lessons learned about cross-sector engagement of community partners over the 10 years of Healthy Shasta is foundational to the current approach Shasta is taking to their Community Health Assessment and Community Health Improvement Plan. Also this collaborative model is being used to address Shasta County’s social determinants of health, including the promotion of educational attainment and the prevention of Adverse Childhood Experiences.