

Partnership HealthPlan of California has a community health workers benefit for our members – both adults and kids. Community health workers help support your health and are members of your own community. They can help you online, in person, or by phone.

What can a community health worker do?

- Support your physical and mental health
- Connect you to community and health care services
- Guide you through the health care system
- Give health screenings and assessments
- Show you how to get the help

How can I get a community health worker?

You will need a referral from your doctor. Talk to your doctor about how you or your child can get a community health worker. This benefit is at no cost to members.

Community Health Workers Benefit

Partnership is here to help.

For more information, call our Population Health Department at (855) 798-8764, Monday – Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. TTY users can call California Relay Service at (800) 735-2929 or 711.

Partnership HealthPlan of California – Your ~~Partner~~ Partner in ~~health~~ Health.

